- Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions given below it: (45 to 47)

In every country, people imagine that they are the best and the cleverest and the others are not so good as they are. The English man thinks that he and his country are the best; the French man is proud of France and everything French. The Germans and the Italians think no less of their countries and many Indians imagine that India is in many ways the greatest country in the world. This is wrong. Everybody wants to think well of himself and his country. But really there is no person who has not got some good and bad qualities. In the same way, there is no country which is not partly good and partly bad.

45) People all over the world think _____.

| (C) well - least | (D) well - better |

- Read the following poem carefully and answer the questions given below it:
(48 to 50)

The Voice said, 'we are at war'
And I was afraid, for I did not know
What this meant.
My sister and I ran to our friends next door
As if they could help.
History was lessons learnt
With ancient dates, but here
Was something utterly new,
The radio called the wireless then, he said
That the country would have to be brave
There was much to do.

- 14) The evils due to bacteria have received more attention than the goods. Their contribution to well-being is a prodigious and varied. Some bacteria are capable of living in the dark entirely on chemicals, without even the assistance of sunlight. These bacteria can produce life out of the indisputably dead. This fact suggests a bacterium may have been the first kind of organism to evolve from dead matter, for it could not live on itself and all other was purely dead matter. That is one justification for regarding bacteria or some organism of that sort as the link between the dead and living matter. Another kind of bacterium can eat bricks. It is found in decaying stone and perhaps is a type of organism which helps to manufacture soil in the earth's youth. There is evidence that soil is made by these bacteria on barren rocks and mountain peaks.
